

Paradigm Forensics creates Forensic Accounting Scholarship through Stevenson University

Paradigm Forensics, LLC has announced that it is funding a scholarship through Stevenson University for graduate forensic accounting students starting in the fall of 2024. Paradigm Forensics believes in giving back and looks forward to helping develop the next generation of professionals and leaders in this industry. Samantha Fisher and Robert Carter both serve as adjunct professors in Stevenson University's graduate forensic accounting program.

